5. On the last round of the neck opening, find the center point between where pins A and D would line up vertically, and place a final pin (Pin E).
6. Using a long needle and nylon thread, enter through the neck opening and exit at Pin A. Re-insert the needle at Pin B and exit at Pin E. Pull gently to create the eye socket, tie the thread ends in a few knots, and hide them inside the head.
7. Repeat for the other eye: enter through the neck opening, exit at Pin D, re-insert at Pin C, and exit at Pin E. Pull to sculpt, tie off, and hide the ends.

2. Wrap the hair-colored yarn around the book many times.

3. Cut the yarn along one edge of the book to create strands that are twice the desired length (e.g., 50 cm).

4. Attach the hair like a fringe: fold a strand in half, insert your hook into a stitch on the head, pull the folded loop through, then pull the ends of the strand through the loop and tighten.

5. First, attach hair along a visually determined hairline. Then, fill in the entire area. Attach one strand per stitch, working in every other round to avoid making the hair too dense.
